

Media Release
9 November 2010
For immediate release

JAZZ FESTIVAL FORMS PART OF BRIAN TUNNICLIFFE NISSAN POHUTUKAWA FESTIVAL FOR 2010

As part of the 2010 Brian Tunnicliffe Nissan Pohutukawa Festival the third annual Whangamata Jazz Festival is due to hit Whangamata on November 19th - 20th - 21st.

'This year we have nearly 200 musicians playing all over town, with street buskers and once again every cafe and restaurant vibrating with live music' says festival organiser John Norris. 'We have a gorgeous mix with duo's, trio's, quartets and more, including 46 young musicians from Australia forming a superb big band. Talking of our friends from across the Tasman we are also proud to present Susan Gai Dowling as our headline act, in a not to be missed brunch concert with full support bands and continuous music from 11am to 2pm in the beautiful natural setting of Bushland Park in the nearby Wentworth Valley' he adds.

Over 20 events will form part of this years programme and will include the Pohutukawa Wearable Arts, the Thames Heritage Homes Trail, the Coromandel Dive Festival, Art exhibitions, scenic cruises, live local music and much more.

Spanning over three weekends the Brian Tunnicliffe Nissan Pohutukawa Festival provides several reasons to unwind and escape to the Coromandel. Come on down and enjoy New Zealand's favourite holiday destination in our favourite season! www.pohutukawafestival.co.nz

The Brian Tunnicliffe Nissan Pohutukawa Festival kicks off on the 19 November for two weeks, so check out the website for the full programme or visit one of our local information centers to collect a programme.

END

All enquiries to:
Megan Etherington,
Event Manager, Tourism Coromandel
megan@thecoromandel.com

Thank you to our sponsors for 2010:

